

RECOGNIZING ADVICE AND INSTRUCTION

Imperative

- Imperatives are verbs used to give orders, commands, warning or instructions, and (if you use "please") to make a request.

We use imperative to give advice

- Eat an apple, it's much better for you than a biscuit.
- Read a lot to improve your writing skills.
- Don't rush or you will fall.

We use imperative to give instructions

- Turn left and go straight on.
- Wash your hands first and then eat.
- Turn off the electricity before touching any cables.

Imperative does NOT have a subject we can sometimes use ALWAYS and
NEVER to make the sentence stronger

Always be happy.

Always revise for tests.

Always do your best.

Never be worried.

Never write carelessly.

Never use their possessions.

Practice advice with imperatives

- Be careful... when you share your email.
- Don't click... on the advertisement links.
- Don't open... every website.
- Install... an anti-virus.
- Never give... your password.
- Protect... your data and information.
- Turn off... your computer.
- Don't believe... everything you read online.

Reviewing vocabulary

- What can you...
- Be responsible for? Yourself.
- Manage? Your life.
- Revise for? A test.
- Miss? Deadlines.
- Respect? Your flat mates.
- Worry about? Working hard at the university.
- Spend time? Studying.
- Share? Accommodation.
- Record? The results.

