World Bank Group

Dear Govan Shukri,

On behalf of the World Bank's Business Ready (B-READY) team, I would like to THANK YOU for your contribution to the Pilot I of the project, a new and ambitious endeavor to develop a strong private sector to end poverty on a livable planet.

Please find attached your Certificate of Appreciation, a small token of our gratitude for your dedication to B-READY and being an integral part of our Pilot I journey. Your expertise and professional generosity are the cornerstone of B-READY's success. We would be honored to share with you the first B-READY report upon its publication later this year.

The valuable feedback we received from expert like you about our processes will play a crucial role in refining our approach for Pilot II.

As we reflect on the lessons learned from Pilot I of B-READY, we see a bright future with success of this project. To continue this journey, I would like to invite you to be an expert again in our Pilot II report, once it launches in the second half of 2024. Your continued involvement goes beyond a simple collaboration between you and B-READY - it shapes the trajectory of this groundbreaking resource that is set to improve the lives of people around the world.

With that, I thank you again.

Warm wishes,

Norman
