

The human beings are the core of urban design, thus their needs are taken in consideration in the diverse urban design movements.

Categorization with the insight of Maslow pyramid of human needs

Basics needs	Complementary needs	supportive needs	luxurious needs	supreme needs	wholeness
Relation with nature: -Park movement -Garden city  Function: -Modernism -Megastructure -Team X	Territory: -Behaviorism	-Just city	-Semiology & symbolism -Traditionalism -Post modern & contextualize -practice movement  -Transit oriented development  -Urban village  -New urbanism  -traditional neighborhood development TND  - critical theory	-City beautification movement  -Normative ethical theory	-smart growth  -new urban design theory  -sustainable urban design  - Urban design for urban century

As a conclusion , a considerable number of the movements are concerned with the supreme human needs