Agree or Disagree arguments

Here are some expressions you can use to agree and disagree activity.

Agreeing

Absolutely!

That's right!

I totally agree!

Exactly! Me too!

Yes, I agree with you!

That's what I think too.

You're right. That's a good point.

Disagreeing

I don't agree!

Absolutely not!

I wouldn't say that.

No, I don't really agree.

I'm not sure about that.

I'm not sure that's right.

I don't really agree with you.

This idea isn't supported by the evidence...

Partly agreeing, (Acknowledging ideas)

Yes, OK, but

I accept that, but...

I see your point, but ...

Yes, but what about....

That's partly true, but ...

That's a good point, but..

I see what you mean, but....

I can see your point. However...

For Example:

Do you agree or disagree with the statement that women make better managers?

We agree with this statement because Women are usually good at the following five things that make them to be better than men manager:

1) Understanding:

Women make good managers because they can be especially good at understanding their employees.

2) Communicating:

Recent studies show that women tend to be better communicators than men. They learn to communicate well and often from the time they are young.

3) Multi-tasking:

Evidence appears to be in favor of women who are often capable of carrying out multiple tasks with speed and efficiency at the same time.

4) Supportive:

Being supportive is an ability that most women are naturally good at.

5) Creative:

Creativity is an area that many women also excel at. Recent research supports the idea that women tend to cooperate better and are more creative.

6) Protective behaviour:

A female behave protective when it comes to something about their friends but whereas, a male ...

7) Sharing appreciation:

A female manager shares their performance appraisal with her team members for future engagement.

8) Learn to improve their skills:

1) Students Name: Group: ()

Actually, we do not agree with this statement because women are usually bad at the following things that make them to be a weak manager:

1) Men work more

Modern society has demonstrated that women fewer hours, 30% fewer than men on average, typically so they can spend more of their time taking care of family and home.

2) Men take risks just to be entertaining

Men are ready to do something that may harmful for their life and like challenges.

3) Stronger and more power:

Men have more power and influence in the working world and, therefore, may be in a better position to offer advancement.

4) Male bosses are familiar:

There are people who are comfortable working under a male manager than a female. At that point of time the nature of an office changes completely when a female become a manager.

5) Money Minded:

As compared to female bosses or employers, male bosses are more money minded than female bosses.

6) Arrogance:

When it comes to their manager arrogance, a female delivers a highest level of arrogance of their leadership as compared to a male boss.

7) Patience:

Patience is a key element that a person needs to understand while working in an office full of employees. Most of the female bosses lack in that subject because

8) Men are good in experiences life

Students Name: Group: ()
