ACCOMPLISHMENTS

I have accomplished so many workshops and professional training during my study inside the country. I have taken some workshops that related to different cultures in order to have enough knowledge about different cultures, besides I have taken some leadership workshop programs to train myself to such skills and to have the ability to manage in case of crisis or facing difficulties. I want to highlight that I have accomplished all these workshops successfully, and I got all my certificates in these fields.

As mentioned above my thesis named as a ((Democratic Transformation process in Iraq after 2003:Reality & expectations)), which briefly is about the democratization process occurs in a country it means that there is a non democratic system, and there is the necessity of working to change the system. Internal or external powers and factors can play their role. This process begins with the change of old regime elites and paves the way for the rise of new political elite.
