

Document of participation

Name: Twana Hasseb Abdulahad Alkasalias

has participated in an international conference on translational cancer research on September 24-25, 2018 in Stockholm, the annual KICancer and StratCan-retreat. This international conference included lectures by invited international speakers (total five) from France (Paris and Grenoble), United Kingdom (Oxford), Netherlands (Amsterdam) and Japan (Tokyo). The participant has actively participated in the meeting.

The KICancer Research PhD-training program FoTO has participated in organizing the meeting. The program offered 16 hours of lectures, 2 hours of poster discussion and 1 hour interactive discussions in group.

The study director for PhD-studies at each Department makes decision about the LADOK-points to be provided for this conference. The PhD-training program FoTO recommends that this should render at least 0,6 LADOK-points for participation in an International conference. A participating student who also gave an oral presentation (in that case documented by attached program) might be given more credit points.

Stockholm, May 22, 2019

Sandra Falck, PhD
Research Coordinator
StratCan-KICancer