

Second / Translation in real practical situation, (English into Kurdish)

First term

1. Training the students on in class ~~on the~~ practical training on E~K translation through translating various well - graded selected topic such as ; Journalism, politics, scientific, economic, culture, social and literary texts.
2. Giving assignments on translation in to Kurdish to be prepared for the next lecture and to be performed in class with the participation of the students , and here, the teachers role is to supervise the task , giving the required comments , remarks , and corrections.
3. carrying out an evaluation test regarding the student's performance in what have been given throughout the course .

Third /

Second term

Translation in real practical situation
(Kurdish in to English)

1. introduction to the subject of the second term.
2. the requirements of a good English language mastery . regarding grammar, vocabulary , structures , style , equivalence , punctuation and writing techniques.
3. After the students became well-acquainted with the principle of translation in general and of English in to Kurdish in particular , the students will be trained on Kurdish into English translation activities , starting with translating short paragraphs , texts , then gradually to a more complex structures.
4. training the students on translating texts of various well-graded selected topics , such as ; scientific literary , journalistic , politics , media social . and economic texts .
 . the texts are rather in the form of short paragraphs and structures .